Brittany Pozzi Tonozzi Cracks WPRA Top 10 with Fabulous Fourth of July

By Tanya Randall

Two-time World Champion Barrel Racer Brittany Pozzi Tonozzi is back on familiar footing as the high-money earning barrel racer over the lucrative Fourth of July run, affectionately known as Cowboy Christmas. Brittany, who splits her time between residences in Colorado and Texas, earned $20,170 at rodeos held the weekend leading up to the Tuesday, July 4 holiday.

"This is my first big Fourth since Duke," said Brittany, referring to her 2009 WPRA World Champion Yeah Hes Firen. "I was shocked! It's not that I didn't think my horses could do it, but ... four months off over the winter, just getting back in the groove of things. I was just really shocked and proud of my horses."

Brittany rode three horses over the Fourth, two of which were products of her program. Her big winner was the 10-year-old mare Steele Magnolias ("Steeley") (Magnolia Bar Jet x Kings Frosted Lady x Roan Bar Eighty), who won the World's Oldest Rodeo in Prescott, Ariz., placed second at the Greeley Independence Stampede in Colorado, and 14th at the Oakley Independence Day Rodeo in Utah, for total earnings of $15,280.

Her record holding 7-year-old homebred mare Kisskiss Bangbang ("Mona") (Dash Ta Fame x CD Nick Bar x Dr Nick Bar) placed fourth at Livingston, Mont., and third at Window Rock, Ariz., for $4,280.

The teenaged gelding Docs Two Eyed Dream ("Rusty") (Docs Jackpot x Mistakenly A Lady x Second Sackett) also picked up a check at West Jordan, Utah, for $610.

Brittany, who is working on her 11th Wrangler National Finals qualification, started her Fourth of July run in 22nd in the WPRA World Standings with $26,320 and jumped to tenth with $46,975, unofficially.

"It was a wild one, for sure, as far driving was concerned," said Brittany. She and her husband Garrett's 4-month-old daughter Tinlee started the trip with them before escaping to Grandma Tonozzi's. "We kept Tinlee through Window Rock and Prescott then we dropped her off at Grand Junction at Garrett's mom's house. We finished the Fourth without her because we had three more all-night drives."

Brittany's week actually started off in Colorado Springs, for the qualifying (first) round of the Pike's Peak Or Bust Rodeo, where she placed on Mona. Luckily, she was close to her Colorado home so she could get some new tires on her trailer before heading to Greeley for her first run Tuesday night.

"Friday, we were in Oakley and then headed to Prescott and Window Rock the next morning. The ground was horrible at Window Rock. Mona slipped really bad on the first barrel. I was kind of like 'Do I keep going or pull up?'" I kept going and it ended up working out."

After dropping off Tinlee, Brittany headed to West Jordan, Utah, and then to Red Lodge, Mont.

"We drove all night to Red Lodge. I rode Rusty, and there are these banner flags that run across the top of the arena and he jumped the (shadows of) the banner flags. He's 16 years old!" she laughed. "I was at Livingston that night. I was supposed to drive all night to Mobridge (South Dakota). I was tired and I had Greeley the next day. I wanted my horses to rest so I turned out of Mobridge. The rig I was supposed to go to Greeley and Mobridge and all of that in was Garrett's team roping partner's rig. I had all my stuff in there and at the last minute we decided to switch it back to mine. They left Livingston and the transmission went out in that truck, so I was glad I wasn't in it!"

After running at in the short go at Greeley, Shane Hanchey's aunt, Donna Battles, jumped in to drive all night to get Brittany to Cody for slack on Tuesday morning.

"She was just so nice," said Brittany. "I didn't even know her!"

From Cody, Brittany headed to Belle Fourche, S.D.

"I didn't have any luck in Cody and I drove myself to Belle Fourche," she said. "The perf was at 3 o'clock. I was done at 5:30 and in my trailer by 6!"

She slept 15 hours straight and then woke up to a text message from Barrel Racing Report's Tracy Swan, telling her she was the high-money earner over the Fourth. Her response was to wake her equally exhausted husband with the news.

"I woke Garrett up and said I can't believe this is happening," she said. "On Duke or Stitch, it was expected, but now it's just a blessing and not expected. I'm like a kid in a candy store!"

With her maternity hiatus, Brittany didn't expect to be where she is in the standings, but was going to make the most of her situation by working with what she was given.

"The pregnancy was not on our radar," she said. "I didn't find out I was pregnant until the middle of August. It was a total shock. The brown mare Steeley had started running so good. My thought process was to win as much money as I could. I rode until the middle of October. It was definitely hard sitting on the couch and going to rodeos with Garrett all winter, watching people just fly by me in the standings."

After having Tinlee, Brittany was determined to run at the RAM National Circuit Finals Rodeo in Kissimmee, Fla., just weeks after giving birth.

"When I got there, I was like 'What am I doing here? I'm way over my head! I can't even stay on!' I ended up making the short round and winning $3,500. Your emotions are high and your hormones are all over the place because you've just had a baby. I remember crying to Garrett, 'Why did I make you drive me all the way here. I'm not going to win anything!' He's been so awesome. He said, 'You're fine. You'll win.' He's been super supportive. He's a great dad. There's no way I could do it if I was all by myself. He's stood by me 100 percent. I couldn't do it without him."

Brittany also wanted to thank her mother-in-law Michelle Tonozzi, her driver-on-the-fly Donna Battles, her parents for their support, her good friend and fellow NFR qualifier Jana Bean and her veterinarian Marty Tanner as well as her sponsors Purina, Oxy-Gen, Roper Apparel, Marty Tanner, DVM-Elgin Veterinary Hospital, Professional's Choice, Double J Saddlery and Manzanola Feeds (Alfalfa cubes).

Her next mission is to pick up her daughter Tinlee before running at the Dinosaur Roundup in Vernal, Utah. She also has Steamboat Springs and Estes Park, Colo., this weekend. Those three rodeos are a brief respite before the madness of the following week.

Brittany summarized, "Wednesday, I'm up at Colorado Springs, Thursday, Gunnison, Friday, Casper, Saturday Sheridan, hopefully the short round Saturday night and then Laramie on Sunday."

Carmen Pozzobon Strikes It Rich at Ponoka Stampede

An exceptional performance at the Ponoka Stampede in Alberta, Canada, made Carmen Pozzobon the second richest barrel racer over Cowboy Christmas. Carmen and her talented 7-year-old mare Ripn Lady ("Ripp") won $16,540 between their Ponoka Championship and an eighth-place finish at Williams Lake, B.C.

On her first run at Ponoka, Carmen was just hoping to keep everything standing so she'd have a chance to make her second run.

"I was just trying to go make an honest run," said the barrel horse trainer from Aldergrove, B.C. "I didn't know if I was going to make it back or not because the times were a little bit slower this year. The second run I just got back from Williams Lake and she just worked really good. She just tried her (rear) off and we just tried to be as fast as we could."

Carmen and Ripp (French Hula Guy x Bijou Betali x Eli Beta-streak) lead the average on two runs after winning the Finals, earning a berth into the Shootout, which paid $7,500 to win.

"We had a little bit of rain before the Shootout Round," said. "It was a little bit slicker and she had a little slip on the back of the first barrel. I was kind of scared that I hit it."

Her total Ponoka haul was $15,615.

The win should jump her to the top of the Canadian pro rodeo standings and put her with $20,787 in WPRA earnings. Rather than make a push for the Wrangler National Finals Rodeo, she'll likely focus on her Canadian rodeos.

"I had some trouble with my horse's hoof earlier this year and I got a little behind before the Fourth of July," she explained. "I think I'm going to finish out Canada and try to get enough money won to be qualified for those bigger rodeos next year."

Her other option was to try to qualify for the RAM National Circuit Finals Rodeo through the Columbia River Circuit, since both circuit and RNCFR money counts towards the WPRA World

If she stays in Canada too, it will allow her to continue working with her futurity horses.

"I've got 19 head horses at my place right now so my plate is kind of full," she laughed. "This rodeo thing is kind of cramping my style a bit. We've got Klondike Days (Rodeo) in a couple weeks and the Platinum Futurity coming up. There's a lot of money to be won in the futurities and slot races coming up here pretty quick in Canada."

Tiany Schuster Adds to Her WPRA World Standings Lead

WPRA World Standings Leader Tiany Schuster continues to pad her lead with a $13,446 Fourth of July effort—third amongst all barrel racers. She placed at both the Greeley Independence Stampede in Colorado and the Cody Independence Stampede in Wyoming.

Tiany started her Fourth of July run at Ponoka, where she made a "pretty run, but not a fast run" on the 7-year-old gelding Show Mance (First Smart Money x Baby Blue Cash x Hold On To The Cash). It was the gelding's first run back since needing some time off after Reno.

"During Reno, he went off his feed," Tiany said. "He's an amazing horse, so we wanted the best care for him. Not taking any chances, we sent him to UC Davis. Jane Melby later hauled him up to Ponoka for us. With the seven days off and few days of traveling back to get to me, it took another full 10 days or so to get most of his wind and strength back."

From Ponoka, it was on to Greeley, where she ran the 12-year-old gelding Hoosier Fame, who "made one of those Hoosier Fame runs," noted Tiany. They finished third in the first round. Her next stop was Oakley, Utah, where she rode a different horse, but didn't do well.

Tiany tried running Show Mance again at Livingston, Mont., but was back on Hoosier for Red Lodge, Mont., where the speedy gelding scrambled to stay upright.

restaurant I go to," laughed Tiany. Belle Fourche, S.D., didn't go any better when she tipped a barrel on a run that would have placed.

On the way from Belle Fourche to Greeley for the short go on Monday, the decision was made to run Show Mance.

"He took a funky step at the second barrel and I thought I pulled a shoe," she recalled, "but it was just enough to take me out of the (Finals) money and I ended up fifth in the average there."

At Cody, on Tuesday morning, Schuster ran Show Mance again. Edwin Cameron was in favor of Hoosier (Dash Ta Fame x Time To Perk x Dash For Perks), but Tiany had her heart set on Show Mance. While Hoosier was capable of blasting off a winning time, Tiany was shooting for a guaranteed clean run on a horse that wouldn't have trouble standing up.

Tiany ran immediately following Cody Stampede Champion Tammy Fischer and her hauling partner Taci Bettis, who finished sixth. Tiany and Show Mance finished second for $7,834—Tiany's largest check of Cowboy Christmas.

"I came out straight out of the pen and jumped off my horse and went straight for Tammy," said Tiany, who is sponsored by Alfalfa Express, Double X Equine, Brazilian Saddle, Justin Knight Farrier Services, Pony Plate and Professional's Choice. "I was so happy for her and Taci... and for Show Mance. He proved that he is that 'Special Horse' on July Fourth!"

Tiany is out in the second set at the Calgary Stampede and will run there July 11-14. She turned out of Vernal, Utah, and Estes Park, Colo., to rest. After Calgary, she'll have another insane schedule with Cheyenne, Wyo., Salt Lake City, Spanish Fork, Utah, Nampa, Idaho, and Salinas, Calif.

BRR: Biggest influence on your training techniques

Weast: My family - Youree Ward Barrel Horses. My sisters and I feed off of one another and always go back to our Youree foundation!

BRR: What qualities make Hell On The Red so special and so consistent?

Weast: Her TRY! Absolute grittiest horse I've ever sat on. Her consistency depends on her weekly preparation and rider.

BRR: Now that you are qualified to The American what are your plans for the rest of the year?

Weast: My plans are to try to finish Reddy's rodeo season-ing. At this time she has only been to four!

by Sherry Morrison
Triple M (Mike Morrison Ministries)

I trust that you had a wonderful July 4th! What a celebration! The birth of this great country! And we are so blessed to live here, free to worship our very good God!

I'm sure we've all heard, "do unto others, as you would have them do unto you." But do we practice this?

We should, and probably do most of the time. But there are sneaky things that can creep in and we don't realize it. I heard this one liner a few days ago and it really struck my heart. "My friends, when absent from me...are still safe in my presence."

It means that even when we aren't face to face, I still have their best interests at heart. I don't act one way in front of them and then as soon as they are out of earshot, I'm second guessing them or criticizing them or talking about them behind their back with my 'other' friends. We've all done it. We all should stop. It's called gossip.

Dear friends, I believe the Lord showed me that the Blessing in our lives is plugged up because of just such things as that. When we love others and have their best interests at heart and treat them like we'd like to be treated, the Blessing can flow! Check your words and your motives and watch the Blessing flow into your life!

Mike and Sherry Morrison pastor "Church at the Barn" in Gillette, WY. They also travel to other areas ministering at barrel races, ranches, rodeos, churches and home Bible studies.
