Jordon Briggs & Famous Lil Jet Beat The Heat In Kennewick's Horse Heaven Roundup

By Tanya Randall

Famous Lil Jet, affectionately known as "Rollo," showed his appreciation for leaving the exceptional Texas heat behind by winning the $22,000-added Horse Heaven Roundup for his owner, rider Jordon Briggs of Tolar, Texas.

"It was a little hard on Rollo going home," Briggs said. She typically comes home for a little break after the Kansas run of rodeos before heading back to the Northwest. "It was a little hot in Utah before we went to Kansas. Normally Kansas prepares us to go home."

But nothing can prepare you for continuous days of triple-digit temperatures plus humidity.

"I was home for two weeks and got Bexley in school. I wouldn't miss that for the world. She loved it. I can't say I miss the parent pickup line," she laughed.

That duty falls to husband Justin, who encouraged her to go to the Northwest, even though she's been a solid No. 2 in the world standings.

"Justin was pushing me to come out to the Northwest," Briggs said, "but I definitely wanted to plan everything around coming home for a little bit."

Briggs and Rollo came off their break with a run at the Golden

CONDITIONING/TRAINING REGIMEN: "Honestly, yesterday and today were the first two days that I've given him off. I usually always get on him and trot him around, mainly for my own sanity. I just want to make sure that he feels good, and just FEEL him. I long trot and lope him around. If there are barrels set up, I at least trot through once or twice just to keep him backed off. Because these pens are so wide open, it's so easy, in my opinion, to get one untrained. I'll kind of keep one under my thumb a little bit more in these wide open pens just to keep them from pushing through the bridle. I'll ride him in a tiedown during the week so if he wants to nose out on him, he hits the tiedown and I don't have to get after him about it."

Spike Rodeo in Tremonton, Utah.

"Tremonton was on the way out here," she explained. "I ran in slack to get my run in. It always takes Rollo a run or two to be really, really fast coming after he's had a couple of weeks off."

The Busby Quarter Horses-bred gelding was firing on their next run in the first round at Kennewick. They got the "w" with a 16.89, and advanced to the short round on Saturday. She slipped over to the $15,000-added, one run Kitsap Stamped in Bremerton, Washington, and picked up $419 for 14th in a tight race separated by less than three-tenths. They finished Kennewick with third in the short go to win the aggregate and $8,990.

“Kennewick is a great rodeo,” said Briggs. “Their ground is amazing. They drag after six. I like the setup with the added money and it being one run and a short round so that it pays really well. It’s just a really good rodeo. Rollo liked it last year and he won the first round there in ’21.”

Briggs’ goal for going back out on the road was to pick up Playoff Tour Points, which count toward the Cinch Playoffs in Puyallup, Washington, next weekend that offers a $72,000 purse to the barrel racers. The top 23 in the standings plus the NFR Open Champion, qualify for the rodeo.

Playoff Tour Points also have implications for the Governor’s Cup in Sioux Falls, South Dakota, September 28-30, the last weekend of the 2023 season. The top 4 from Puyallup along with the Top 8 from the points standings will compete for a $122,220 purse.

Briggs isn’t comfortable with the format at Puyallup and believes it’s in the best interest of her horse to skip the rodeo.

“In the ground rules, they put you in the first set or second set based on how you go in on points,” she explained. “I will be in the second set. That will make me have to run four times in 30 hours. I don’t feel comfortable doing that when I don’t have to.”

The second set at Puyallup will make their first two runs on September 9 in performances starting at 1 p.m. and 6:30 p.m. For the ladies that advance to the Semifinals and Finals from that second set, their next run would be during the 1 p.m. performance with their last run coming less than two hours late.

“It’s a pretty unfair setup,” explains the 2021 WPRA World Champion and three-time NFR qualifier. “Not only is it hard on our horses but the fact that the first set horses get 24 hours of rest between their first and second run and they get a whole day off before the short round.”

Otherwise, Briggs has always enjoyed the Northwest rodeos.

“I love the openness of the arenas,” she said. “The ground is a little bit firmer and nice. I love Ellensburg and I’m really excited to go there.

“We have good friends up here. I’m staying at Brad and Karen Gleason’s house. They rodeoed with my mom and have known me since I was a little kid. I have awesome stalls for my horses and turnout on irrigated grass. Rollo probably wants to stay out here a little bit longer!”

Briggs also has her futurity horse, KN Bam Shake Da Room, qualified for the lucrative Breeders Challenge Finale in Fort Worth, Texas, coming up soon.

“There’s going to be a year when I don’t make the NFR in under 30 rodeos,” she said. “I’m going to have to push him and be away from my family longer than I need to be, but this isn’t that year.”

Otero on the Move

- Over the summer Carlee Otero and her young superstar mount, Blingolena have been quietly picking up big checks. This week a win at Tremonton, UT pushed the pair in to the #20 position in the World Standings.
- Otero has earned $70,684 so far and is just about $14k behind Kelly Allen who sits #15 with $84,468.
- Otero sits #19 (as of 8/28) in the Playoff Series Barrel Standings so should make the cut for going to Puyallup. If she was to sweep both rounds of her bucket and win the finals there, she could win $19,700. Then there will be the possibility of another $45k at Sioux Falls in the Cinch Playoff Finals!

- Otero's horse Blingolena carries the magic Blazin Jetolena/Dash Ta Fame cross. Blingolena is by Blazin Jetolena out of the Dash Ta Fame/Easily Smashed mare, Dash Of Bling. The 2018 sorrel gelding was also raised by Busby Quarter Horses (like Jets Top Gun ridden by Brittany Tonozzi & Famous Lil Jet ridden by Jordon Briggs).

SIX GENERATIONS RANCHING AND RAISING QUARTER HORSES IN SOUTH DAKOTA!

The Governor's Cup Cinch Playoffs Set to Change the Game for the 2023 Rodeo Season

The over $1 Million Payout of the The Governor's Cup Cinch Playoffs held September 28-30 in Sioux Falls, SD at the Denny Sanford Premier Center will close out the 2023 rodeo season. The epic payout on that last weekend will likely have large effects on the NFR Qualifiers and the World Championship Race!

Here is the info about the Cinch Playoffs courtesy of www.CinchPlayoffs.com:

"The Professional Rodeo Cowboys Association (PRCA), the State of South Dakota, Experience Sioux Falls and Cinch are bringing the Cinch Playoffs to Sioux Falls September 28th -30th.

PRCA athletes will compete for the Governor's Cup and more than a $1 million purse. The Denny Sanford Premier Center in Sioux Falls will host this inaugural rodeo. It is the richest rodeo in South Dakota history.

The Cinch Playoffs provides one last opportunity for ProRodeo athletes to qualify for the National Finals Rodeo. At the Cinch Playoffs with athletes competing for the Governor's Cup, the contestants will include the top four finishers from each event at the Cinch Playoffs in Puyallup, Wash. earlier in September, and the top eight out of the standings of the Playoff Series."

According to the schedule also available at www.CinchPlayoffs.com the rodeos left for earning points in the standings are:

Filer, ID, Ellensburg, WA, Walla Walla, WA, Abilene, TX, Pendleton, OR and also Puyallup, WA which is a Cinch Playoffs stop as well.

Here's the way to qualify & How it works:

— The Top 4 finishers from Puyallup and the Top 8 in the PRCA Playoffs Series Point Standings at the conclusion of Puyallup advance to Sioux Falls, SD (The Governor's Cup).

— All 12 contestants compete in Round 1 & 2

— The Top 8 contestants in aggregate after Round 2 advance to Saturday (Round of 8)

— Round of 8 on Saturday is a clean slate round with the Top 4 Advancing to the Final Round

—Final 4 Round is another clean slate round.

Payout:

— Rounds 1 & 2 — 1st - $10,000, 2nd - $7,500, 3rd - $5,000, 4th - $2,500

— Final 4 Round — 1st - $25,000, 2nd - $19,000, 3rd - $12,000, 4th - $6,000 and 5-8 place from the Round of 8 will each get $2,555

(these are the unofficial payout projections and could change some)

Some simple math tells you that a person could win both rounds and the Finals and walk away with $45k and shake up the standings a bunch! It is also possible Brittany Pozzi Tonozzi, who currently has a commanding lead in the World and the Playoff Series Points, could use it as a springboard to the biggest regular season earnings haul in history!

The WPRA did not have the Ground Rules and such up yet for this rodeo so things could change a little and all our information was pulled from www.CinchPlayoffs.com

- The Top 23 in the Playoff Series Points Standings & the NFR Open Winner (Jessica Routier) qualify for the Puyallup Rodeo Cinch Playoffs held September 7-9.

Jendersee Cashes In at Megabucks Slot Race

The 1st Annual Megabucks Slot Race in Rapid City, SD during the Central States Fair & Rodeo attracted an elite group of horses and jockeys. The horses included the 2022 NFR Star, Promise Me Fame Guys, along with Aint Seen Her Yet, Slicks Lil Amigo, Sheik Jean Fly Htt and Dudes Spring Fling to name just a few of the notables in the field.

The upstart team of Share The Fame & McKenzie Jendersee topped the tough field of competitors and walked away with over $8,600. The pair has been placing along at the rodeos in the Badlands Circuit throughout the summer. They currently sit 13th in circuit and are looking to make the Badlands Circuit Finals. The Barrel Racing Report caught up with Jendersee to get some more info on her big win and her wins at the rodeos over the summer!

BRR: Can you walk us through your Megabucks Slot Race run?

Jendersee: What an exciting day in general! We finally had the opportunity to run at a larger barrel race close to home which is not something we see often in South Dakota. Both Zira and I had been struggling with some runs and bad luck just barely catching barrels to win some money. Being a little discouraged, we agreed we would go and leave it all on the table that day and that's exactly what we did. Zira is a mare that walks in focused on her job and ready to give 110% everytime. That day she definitely made me work for it but it was so worth it. The second we left the arena and they said our time so many emotions had came flooding in! Excitement of course; not only did we have a clean run but we also had a run fast enough to not just take the lead by a nose but by 3 tenths of a second! I was feeling so blessed in that moment to not just have a beautiful run but to be doing it on such a special horse that is one I've trained from the beginning makes it sweeter.

BRR: It was an incredibly tough bunch of horses and jockeys; what was it like running against a group like that?

Jendersee: Where do I start!?! The caliber of horses and jockeys in today's world is just astounding. To be able to run with some of the best and be able to come out on top is a dream come true. I've always wanted to get to this caliber but knew it would take a lot of hard work and dedication but to now see it paying off its a great feeling. I love how much our industry has improved because it just pushes us to continue to be better and work hard to be successful in what we do. It's nerve racking but also so rewarding to run with this group of horses and jockeys.

BRR: Can you share with us about your mare; where she came from and her career up to now?

Jendersee: I bought Zira as a weanling from the Jerry and Janell Haensel in Montrose, SD. I walked through their pasture looking at several nice prospects but couldn't seem to get the one super nice weanling out of my mind. I started her myself as a 2 year old and slowly worked with her the next few years. She took to things so quickly and everything came with ease for her. I had hopes to be able to futurity her but always ended up having a set back each year causing us to get a late start running. I finally started getting to run her at a couple rodeos at the end of her 2022 year and she handled everything great and ended our year with a bang at West Fest futurity and derby. She won both goes of the Derby and the average, won the first go of the open and ended up 3rd in the second go leaving us winning the open average. And to top it off she was 2nd in the slot race and won the fastest time of the weekend award. She added over $8000 to her LTE that weekend. This had me excited for 2023 and what was to come as we hit the rodeo road and went to some WPRA rodeos in the Badlands Circuit where she placed at some of the biggest rodeos out here against a tough group. She got us in the standings for our circuit in her first year really going to the rodeos. She may have gotten a late start to running but she definitely made the wait worth it.

BRR: What are a few things you did with her to have her at her best for this weekend?

Jendersee: Spoiled maybe is an understandment when it comes to Zira. She is one that I do a lot of just ponying her to keep her in great shape and riding her a couple times a week just to keep her nice and softened up. She gets Nebulizer treatments with the smoke in the air right now. She's also on her daily herbal program to help keep her body supported and feeling amazing. She also gets Magnawave sessions to help keep her muscles feeling great with how much strain we put on them running down the road.

BRR: Can you tell us a little about yourself and your barrel racing career?

Jendersee: I have been riding horses since I was about 7 years old. It started with one horse and some how ended up with several more. I took lessons for years from some great cowgirls learning the basics of the sport. I then went on to compete all through the years in 4-H rodeo, Jr High Rodeo, High School rodeo and I College Rodeoed for SDSU. I rode under some trainers learning how to better my riding, break colts and excel in our sport. I now train horses for my own business MJ Performance Horses here in South Dakota.

BRR: What are your future plans for you and your horse throughout the rest of the 2023 year?

Jendersee: We will finish our year out going to the final Badlands Circuit rodeos to try to make the circuit finals and then try to go to some of our local big barrel races such as The Blitz and West Fest. We have a few other big barrel race we have in mind but have not fully decided what all we would like to go to.

BRR: How do you mentally prepare for big runs like that prior to entering the arena?
Jendersee: Before entering the arena, I run through my run several times in my head. I work on my breathing to keep the nerves down and my focus on point so I am able to do my job to the best of my ability. The mental preparation in my opinion is just as important as anything else we do to prepare for our run.

BRR: What are three things (other than truck, trailer, horses and such) that you can't travel without?

Jendersee: Zira's herbs are a must! My Flaharty snaffles usually never get left home when I'm on the road and all of Zira's magnetic gear.

Hot N Fast Wins for Carley Cervi at Glen Wood Memorial

By Tanya Randall

Former National Finals Rodeo qualifier Carley Cervi and her homebred gelding Hot N Fast ("Frio") topped the $20,000-added Glen Wood Memorial Futurity, held August 25-27 in Salina, Utah. The victory paid $5,918 including carryovers.

"It was a great event," said the barrel racer from Roggen, Colorado.

Frio is by the proven performer Return Of The Fire, a son of champion racehorse sire Mr Jess Perry out of multiple graded stakes winner Separate Fire, by Walk Thru Fire. He is out of Cervi's futurity winning mare Hot N The Fire ("Loretta"), by Tomahawk N Firewater out of a Hot Colours mare.

Cervi had done well at the rodeos on Loretta in 2018. When her friend Sally Conway inquired about an embryo out of Loretta, Cervi thought she might as well get one for herself too.

"I thought Loretta was a little bit timid and lacked a little competitiveness," Cervi said. "I had watched that stud run. He was so aggressive and competitive. He was fast and hardcore."

While Frio was easy to train, Cervi said she has trouble gauging how fast to send him to the first barrel due to his speed. It got them in a little trouble in the first round in Salina.

"The first day we go way by the first barrel, like way by," she said of their run of 15.904. "He still ran a pretty fast time. I thought if he'd just turn the first barrel, he could be a .4. I never dreamed that he would be a .2"

They won the second round with a 15.235 that also won Sunday's Open.

"It's a really long run to the first barrel in Salina, like deceivingly far down the pen," she explained. "The second day I walked him up in there further before I let him go."

Cervi said Frio has "placed along" all year but hasn't gone a whole lot. He's picked up checks at the Colorado Classic, the Yeti Classic and BFA Juvenile. He'll finish the year at the BFA World, where he's entered in the Fortunes Round of Future Fortunes.

Cervi said she's not sure what Frio's plans are beyond his futurity year.

"I'd like to rodeo on him, but I don't know if I'll keep him that long or not. He does have a waiting list. I think he'd like the rodeos. He really runs on top of the ground, so I think he'd stand up. It's hard to say until you go out there and try it."

The two-time NFR qualifier has spent more time training and developing younger horses and rodeoing closer to home in recent years. She's ran another one of her futurity winners, Famous Which, who won Friday's Open at the Glen Wood, at a few rodeos. She had planned on running Slym Shady, who belongs to Storme Camarillo, but the gelding got hurt and is out until October.

"I'd rodeo more if horses could drive themselves to the rodeo," she laughed. "In 2016, I was on the bubble in 16th, and I was by myself and just about killed myself trying to get everywhere. That kind of busted my rodeo bubble."

"I'm starting to like the futurities more, where you go and set up camp. That's more speed. This past weekend we cooked fajitas."

HEADIN' FOR HOME

by Sherry Morrison // Triple M (Mike Morrison Ministries)

When the storms of life come, I want to be 'untouchable'. God tells us in Matthew 7:24-29 that if we hear God's word and DO IT, when the storms come, we're like a wise man that builds his house on a rock. We are unaffected. If our house is built on sand however, things aren't good!

God loves us and there is still hope for the house builders that aren't building on rock foundations (God's word), but we sure don't want to be remodeling in the rain! It's too hard.

Let's do it the easy way. Great foundation, great house. Other 'untouchable' promises are in Psalm 91. What a great chapter of the Bible. I was going to list all the wonderful things listed there, but thought you'd enjoy reading it over and over for yourself. It gets down deep in your heart and settles your mind... especially if you watch any news.

It's marvelous how much God loves us. We can count on Him in every situation. When the storms come, and we have a rock foundation, all we're going to get... is wet. No big deal!
