Better Not Blink -- TNR WannaSeeMeCanCan & Monk Win $78,200 at Breeders Challenge Finale

By Tanya Randall

What's the difference between winning $78,200 or $47,600? .01

The country's No. 1 and 2 ranked futurity horses went 1-2 at the Breeders Challenge Finale, held September 13-16 at the Will Rogers Complex in Fort Worth, Texas.

TNR WannaSeeMeCanCan, ridden by DaCota Monk for Billy and Suzonne Franks, edged Tres Chasin Babe PZ, ridden by Brit-tany Pozzi Tonozzi for Teton Ridge, by a mere .01 seconds, 15.797 to 15.807.

Of the victor's share, $46,920 went to the Franks, Twisted J Ranch received $23,400 on behalf of Can Can's sire Eddie Stinson, and Nikki Saggione, who nominated the mare to Breeders Chal-lenge, earned $7,820.

Making Can Can's win even more miraculous was the fact that the right snap on Monk's reins came undone halfway through their winning run.

"I know I had it going into the second barrel because I had to hold her a little bit, like half a step, going into it. I think when I

THE RUNDOWN w/DaCota Monk

TNR WannaSeeMeCanCan ("Can Can") 15.1 h, 1,100 lbs.

BIT: L&W 329 Combination with a chain mouthpiece. Monk has gone back and forth between the Combination and his hackamore version of it. He figured he needed the bit since Can Can was "being such a scaredy cat."

SADDLE: Circle Y Jackie Jatzlau Treeless; Tack set by Riot Leather & Design

SADDLE PAD: CSI

LEG GEAR: Classic Equine fronts only

SHOEING: Rims on all four

FEED: Big V Feeds 12-8 pellet

HAY: Alfalfa cubes

SUPPLEMENTS: MVP In-Sync and Amino 15, 100X Equine's Gut X, Wild Gold Omega 3 Camelina Oil

ALTERNATIVE THERAPIES: Cold water spa if available; wrapping legs, magnet blanket

CONDITIONING/TRAINING REGIME: After the Royal Crown in Rock Springs, Can Can went home for a barrel break. The mare didn't have a single trip around the barrels until she got to the Breeders Challenge for her first exhibition. While Monk was busy with his Italian trip and hauling other horses to the futurities, his sister Brittainy Hill rode her. When Monk was home, he rode Can Can out in the field, where he had some flat ground as well as some gentle hills and a pond dam. "My sister did the pole drill on her a couple times, but other than that, it was just exercise. She was super barrel fresh for the Breeders Challenge," laughed Monk.

SPONSORS: JW Brooks Custom Hats, Wild Gold Omega 3 Camelina Oil, Double XX Equine, MVP, Equilume, 100X Equine, Longhorn Arena & Event Center, Posh & Perks Custom Designs, LS Performance Horses, Next Level Health & Wellness

released (the rein), it must have hit just right and came unsnapped because there's nothing wrong with the snap. It still has good spring to it and everything.

"When I went to transition my turn—come across the barrel to head to the third—my rein just kept growing. I glanced down and [saw] the end of my reins off to the side. I thought, 'She's fine. Just trust her and ride her all the way up into your third barrel.'"

Monk said his need for his outside rein really depends, but he definitely would have needed it for some of her other runs at Breeders Challenge.

Can Can hadn't made a run since the Royal Crown Futurity in Rock Springs, Wyoming, the second week of August. Given the grueling futurity schedule in the coming weeks, Can Can was held out of the Cornhusker and Fizz Bomb futurities, plus Monk had his trip to the Golden Buckle in Italy where he represented the United States in the World Cup Barrel Racing Challenge.

"I was a little nervous doing that because she's a bit of a scaredy cat and she does better when she's gone a bit," Monk admitted. "She gets fresh and tries to go back to her old ways, which is looking at stuff."

Luckily, Can Can had qualified for the Breeders Challenge Open Finale as well so she had extra opportunities to get in the John Justin Arena.

"When I went to exhibition her for the Open, I loped her through. She turned the first and second barrel and when she was going down to the third, she looked at the banners behind the third and turned toward the first, like to run out the pen along the way. I'm trying to turn her and she's like snorting at the wall and tractors back there."

Monk was eventually able to work her enough to get her by the third barrel where she was supposed to be, but it wasn't enough to get her comfortable with the pen by their open run.

"In the Open, she turned her first and second and going to the third she started drifting out. Thank God, I had my rein then because I was trying to hold her square to keep her from going the other way."

Unfortunately, even with the rein to block her, Can Can drifted far enough to the right that her pocket was too large going into the third and she caught the barrel on the backside.

Luckily, Can Can got to go back in the pen again that night for her futurity exhibition.

"That really helped," Monk said. "I knew if I could get her in the pen one more time that she would be fine. She's obviously capable enough to get into the finals so I just wanted to be clean and fast. I really needed my outside rein to make it to the Futurity Finals because I had to hold her square, where she wouldn't drift out."

Can Can ran a 15.924 to tie for fourth in the Semifinals, which consisted of all the qualifiers from around the country competing for a Top 30 spot to advance to the lucrative Final.

"She was obviously confident and had winning on her mind for the Finals," chuckled Monk. "I didn't need anything really the whole run. She was just working her butt off!"

Monk said the whole run was nerve racking from the very start.

"When she took off in the alley way, she took off on the left lead, and she never does that. When she went to switch to the right lead, it tripped her. You can see in the video when I get into the arena, her head goes down and she trips. I thought she was going head-over (heels). I thought, 'Surely not! We're not even going to get to start our run!' But she recovered. She smoked the first and then what happened with the rein at the second...it was an eventful run for sure!"

Bred by Victory Farms, Can Can, 4, is a daughter of 6.9 million dollar sire Eddie Stinson out of the proven producer Chase This Ivory, by Ivory James. She is a sister to VF Chasin Cans ($136,179 QData) and half sister to Born Ivory James ($94,155 QData).

Niki Saggione purchased Can Can, who was then registered as VF A Star Is Born, as a 2-year-old at the 2021 Pink Buckle Sale for $38,500.

Although Monk believed the filly had talent, he knew she needed more time. Since Saggione's other prospect was developing faster, they opted to sell Can Can last October. Monk, wanting to keep the mare in his barn, called Suzonne Franks, a halter horse enthusiast who has become a player in the barrel racing industry. Can Can now bares the TNR for Franks' Three Nails Ranch.

With $314,142 in career earnings, Can Can is the No. 1 futurity horse in the country. The Breeders Challenge was her fourth futurity championship having won the Kinder Cup, its Breeders Challenge qualifier, the Better Barrel Races World Finals Futurity and the Royal Crown Oklahoma City Futurity.

"She's just super consistent," said Monk. "As long as I'm doing my job, she's doing hers. I think she just loves it so much. She reminds me a lot of the yellow mare, where they just have that win on their mind. There's really no stopping her. She gets mad when I try to cruise her through and don't let her run."

Can Can has the Ardmore Futurity this weekend and then one-run at the Texarkana Showdown slot races the following Wednesday. The Pink Buckle kicks off October, followed by the Texan Open race and the Ruby Buckle in Memphis, before finishing the year with the BFA World Championships and OKC Futurity.

Mowry Dominates Derby Finals at 2023 Breeders Challenge Finale

In an era of super teams across sports, Kassie Mowry has formed a derby super team of her own over the past couple years!

Her derby team that headed into the Derby Semi-Finals at the Breeders Challenge Championship were: Force The Goodbye ($511,543); Cp He Will Be Epic ($486,592); Sir Epic ($251,842); Famous Ladies Man ($676,756) and KL Touch Of Heaven ($436,587). According to QStallions this 5 member dream team has earned over $2.36 million (prior to Breeders Challenge) for the now $6 million trainer. Over the past couple years they have all taken their turns winning the big futurities, derbies and rodeos throughout the country.

"I'm just wowed by them...I have 5 horse that can all win if it's their day!" said Mowry, the first $6 million barrel racer (per Equi-Stat). "I'm so grateful for them trying so hard for me."

From the 5, Mowry qualified Cp He Will Be Epic, Force The Goodbye and KL Touch Of Heaven back to the Finals. First up in the Finals was KL Touch Of Heaven (Dove).

"Dove hung up on first so I just made sure I was clean and it was his fastest run of the week. It was a real nice run." Mowry commented. Ultimately, Dove ended up 5th in the Derby Finals.

Next up was the 17 hand gentle giant CP He Will Be Epic (Will). With only 30 in the Finals and Mowry running 3 of them there wasn't much time to switch horses.

"Will was my second horse and I knew I had to catch my breath and walk slow to him because my adrenaline was going. He's very sensitive so he even watches my mannerisms when I approach him." Mowry shared.

She caught her breath and soon it was Wills turn. "Will runs in a mullen o ring so when I leave the alley way he is just running off until I come back to the alley." chuckled Mowry. "Anytime I get to run him is just a blessing...It helps my confidence to run a horses that does it on his own and tries his hardest every time." Will took his huge grey body quickly through the pattern to run a 15.655 and take the lead of the Derby when he ran.

Then Mowry quickly switced one last time to Force The Goodbye (Jarvis) and got ready for her last run of the night. Luckily for her Jarvis isn't quite as sensitive as Will.

"Jarvis is really simple. He doesn't do anything unless he is told." said Mowry. "Our warm up wasn't great, but I just told myself this horse is going to do what he is supposed to do because he always does. I knew I was going to have to go for it to outrun Will but if I hit or something I had Will's time to fall back on. Jarvis was on point, he rimmed the first and second barrel — I don't think I have ever turned the second barrel that perfect. On the third he got out wide a little but I tried to keep him on his feet and moving forward and he did. He is very honest, you can count on him to make clean runs."

Jarvis' near perfect run allowed him to sneak by his stablemate by a tenth of a second. Winning the Derby Finals with a smoking 15.521 and giving Mowry the 1-2 sweep.

All told the Mowry team ran 1st, 2nd and 5th in the Derby Finals earning an amazing $91,375.

Mowry wanted to thank the Breeders Challenge team for producing a great race and allowing them to run at that kind of money and the neat prizes. "Their (Breeders Challenge) awards and pictures are something I will look back over years from now and remember. They gave us things we use and things that are so beautiful. I am so grateful for their gorgeous prizes."

With all the derbies being added to the incentive programs, Mowry has kept her derby horses and also snuck off to the rodeos with the derby horses when they fit her schedule. Mowry currently sits #4 in the WPRAs World Standings for 2023 and is headed to her 4th NFR (2005, 2017, 2022, 2023).

Mowry actually won Abilene, TX this week on Famous Ladies Man (Emmitt) as well for another $3,794 of winnings for her week. "When I left the NFR last year, I didn't know if I would be back." Mowry shared. The timing of the winter rodeos allowed her to get enough won last winter it was worth going out for a month over the summer. "It's a good time for some of them to be off. The 3 year olds got 6 weeks off (this summer while she rodeoed). They all felt the same when I got home as when I left. I've done it enough now I know they will be fine when I get home." That month allowed

Mowry to climb in the worth standings and also get her 25 rodeo count necessary to qualify to the NFR. This year Mowry has 28 official rodeos, the least of any of the current Top 15 (Briggs has 29).

Mowry currently plans on bringing Cp He Will Be Epic, Famous Ladies Man and Force The Goodbye to the 2023 NFR. As of now she plans to start on Will and see where it goes but like everything with horses that could change. "I'll run whatever is working best and what feels best when I get there." said Mowry.

If you know Mowry at all you know how much she loves her horses. She has a very special crop of futurity horses coming for 2024; they are all home raised horses! Her 2024 crew consists of a full brother to Will, 2 full sisters by The Goodbye Lane out of Famous Sophie, a full brother to Girls Dig Fame and a RR Mistakelly out of Miss Sudden Silence. So, chances are Mowry will be adding to her $6 Million in earnings pretty quick over the next couple year!

Stevi Hillman & Sand In My Socks Conquer Pendleton's Green Mile

By Tanya Randall

Seven-time National Finals Rodeo qualifier Stevi Hillman took one step closer to her eighth qualification with a $11,656 victory at the Pendleton Roundup, held September 13-16 in Oregon. The historic rodeo with its grass infield is as exhilarating as it is daunting. As the last richest open-to-all event of the season, all of those in contention for a NFR berth take a chance at a share of the $40,000-added purse.

"What a rodeo! What an experience! There is no other feeling like running barrels at Pendleton. I was forced to run barrels there this year and now I'm thankful for it," said Hillman, who won the 2016 Pendleton Roundup on Morning Traffic ("Martini"), owned by Michelle Darling.

"I didn't need it that year," recalled Hillman, who had already clinched her first NFR berth at the time. "I wasn't on the bubble. It was a bucket list rodeo for me. I knew (Martini) loved to run so much that she would have fun with it. So, we did it for fun, which now I think is crazy!"

Hillman didn't want to "have to" enter Pendleton because it is scary running across the grass and transitioning to dirt for the barrels, but this year she was on the bubble. Going into the rodeo, she was 15th in the WPRA World Standings with $92,964. Luckily, she knew she had the perfect horse—Sand In My Socks ("Sandi"), owned by CJ Lembke's 70 Ranch Performance Horses.

"I told Ty though, of all horses, she would love Pendleton because she loves to run," Hillman noted.

An industry leading futurity horse as both a 3-year-old and 4-year-old for her breeder Isabella Quarter Horses, Sandi is by 3.9 million dollar barrel horse sire BHR Frenchies Socks and out of the race winning Tres Seis mare JC Pick Six.

"I like her in the little, smaller pens because she's quick footed," Hillman noted. "She's good in the outside pens too. She won Homedale, Idaho and placed at some outdoor rodeos this year. I had no doubt the mare could handle the big pen, like Pendleton."

They tied for third on their first run with a 28.67 to qualify for Saturday's short go.

"I had just as sick a feeling this year as I did in 2016," laughed Hillman. "I was fine until you get on and get out there in that grass. Before you run, it's like, 'I don't really want to do this...'"

After making her run on Monday, Hillman left Sandi with friends in Nampa, Idaho, while she and husband Ty headed south for the New Mexico State Fair & Rodeo in Albuquerque. There Hillman met up with her old faithful, Cuatro Fame ("Truck"), to make a 10th place run, worth $1,067.

Tarr Carr drove her Abilene, Texas, for the West Texas Fair & Rodeo, where the ground got the best of Truck. Hillman's mom took her home to Granbury, Texas, for the night before she had to catch a plane to Boise, Idaho, to meet up with Ty for the Pendleton short round.

Hillman and Sandi's short round run of 28.23 was the fastest of the rodeo. The run provided all the drama that a run at Pendleton can as Sandi slid and stumbled on the grass coming into the second barrel.

"I had a moment," laughed Hillman. "I knew I couldn't let up. I just had to keep riding her forward up underneath herself. That's what I told myself—anytime I would feel her slip I needed to ride her up underneath herself. She handled it and recovered. Her recovery for that second barrel was incredible. How do you slide, stumble and smoke the second barrel? She's just an athlete."

With $12,723 won on the weekend, Hillman was able to take a deep breath for the first time all summer.

"We're able to breathe a little bit," said Hillman, who has clawed her way into the WPRA's Top 15 in the waning weeks of the season, "but just a little. We're talking about where we're going next. Are we going to drive to California? It doesn't end until October 1 and then we can breathe for a minute."

Hillman qualified for the Cinch Playoffs Governor's Cup in Sioux Falls, South Dakota, on the very last weekend of the season.

"Sioux Falls pays so much at the end of the year it's just crazy," she said. The barrel racing purse is $122,222. "It's awesome but you have to be careful. Even if I'm 10th, 11th, 12th, whatever, the girls below me could literally place in a round and move me because it's so close. It's such a game changer."

The Hillmans pulled into their driveway late on Monday night after being gone for three months. Their stay will be brief until the season's end. Hillman will finish her season with the $4,000-added in Stephenville, Texas, on Thursday, the $5,000-added rodeo in Amarillo, Texas, on Friday before flying into San Diego, California, for the $5,000-added in Poway and $10,000-added in San Bernardino.

"Poor Ty is going to get home and potentially drive to California on Thursday," Hillman mused. "We're done on the 24th, so we can either drive home and pick up a horse or drive straight to Sioux Falls."

Truck, who loves the big outdoor runs, will likely get the call in California, while the two mares Sandi along with RV Brijett, that Hillman co-owns with Saw Mill Ranch, will potentially see action in Sioux Falls.

"This has been a really trying year," she said. "Truck is 16 and I've had some small things that we had to figure out with him. He clocked really well at Calgary but hit a barrel to make the finals. We've kind of just had more struggles with hitting a few barrels to do good. We got him lined out. He's amazing. He knows it's the summer run, and he gives me everything he has."

"What got us was the week that we normally do good, which is the week of Spanish Fork and Ogden. We struggled to win good money. That week got me down. We just regrouped and went to several in Canada. Truck won three different rodeos up in Canada. It's definitely been a different route this year. I've had to go a little harder and struggle a little more. The ending will be sweeter, that's for sure."

During her times of struggle, and subsequent success, Hillman has maintained her unwavering Christian faith and has used her season of ups and downs as "God's Platform."

THE GAME CHANGER – CINCH PLAYOFFS GOVERNOR'S CUP

Instead of watching the Cannonball Run-esq run around to rodeos across the country on the last weekend of the season, all eyes will be on the Cinch Playoffs Governor's Cup, held September 28-30 in Sioux Falls, South Dakota. Twelve barrel racers will vie for a share of the $122,222 purse.

Of the 12 contestants, only two are not within the WPRA's Top 15 as of this writing. Both Ashley Castleberry and Kelly Allen have the opportunity to play spoilers. Although they're both $13,000 back of 15th as of September 19, there's enough money to be won in Sioux Falls, and if those ahead of them falter in the small pen, anything is possible.

Those eligible for the Governor's Cup were the top four finishers at the Cinch Playoffs in Puyallup, Washington: Brittany Pozzi Tonozzi, Emily Biesel, Jessica Routier and Taycie Matthews. The top eight in the Playoff standings, which concluded with the Pendleton Roundup and West Texas Fair & Rodeo this past weekend, also advanced to Sioux Falls. Wenda Johnson, Hailey Kinsel, Summer Kosel, Stevi Hillman, Paige Jones, Sue Smith along with Castleberry and Allen qualified on points.

Although they had accumulated enough points to compete Jordon Briggs, Kassie Mowry and Shelley Morgan were ineligible since they didn't enter and compete at Puyallup.

Although eligible to enter, Lisa Lockhart has somewhere even bigger to be—her daughter's wedding.

The Governor's Cup will feature two complete rounds on Thursday and Friday with the top eight in the average advancing to the semifinal round on Saturday. The top four from the semifinal will run for the championship later that evening.

"That's not to say that I don't get down because I do," she admitted. "I've wanted to throw in the towel and come home several times this year. Not to quit, but just regroup. But then we'd win another rodeo, win a big check or Brijett or Sandi would shine."

"Seasoning young horses on the rode during the summer is hard because you have to run them at the big rodeos where it counts. Brijett really struggled at Cheyenne and Oakley, so we had to figure some things out. That's really tough on your mental game."

"You have to focus on the things you have control over and hold on to that faith and know that God has us in this place right now for a reason, and we're going to continue to persevere. He never said it was going to be easy; He just said He was going to be there with us. That's what we had to hold on to this year more than ever." HEADIN' FOR HOME

by Sherry Morrison // Triple M (Mike Morrison Ministries)

I will freely admit that I am NOT a grass/flower person. At my house, it can be hit or miss. Well, this year, I was absolutely thrilled when I thought a sunflower had volunteered itself into one of my tank planters! Rather than pull it up because it was so big, I decided to keep it and enjoy it this fall. I watered it. I fertilized it. I watered it. I fertilized it.

It's September. The thing is about 4 1/2 feet high. Oh joy! Well. It's a weed... I had Mike pull it up. Sigh. When he was vigorously jerking on it to get it and its' root system out, I got a word from the Lord. Yep. He told me, "That's how some people treat offense and unforgiveness. They feed it, they talk about it, they talk about what someone did or didn't do to them. They won't dig it up and get rid of it. They hang on, hoping that something will happen to the OTHER person.

When, if they will just get rid of the unforgiveness or offense, THEY will grow and prosper and be free!" Proverbs 14:30 and Matthew 6:15.
